

RAHA Code of Conduct

Parents are responsible for their children's behavior at all RAHA events and activities. Coaches are not able to monitor the behavior of every child, all the time. Parental attendance at games and events is strongly encouraged to show support and ensure all children are safe and behaving appropriately.

Negative attitudes towards teammates, coaches, and parent volunteers is unacceptable. All RAHA individuals are expected to be positive and support each other, aiming to exemplify Christian love in all interactions at RAHA events and activities in accordance with 1 Cor. 13.

Bullying, taunting or other verbal and physical abuse directed toward other teams, players, coaches, referees, family members or fans is unacceptable in any form and will not be tolerated.

Practices and timeliness are important and strongly encouraged and recommended. Developing skills, bonding with teammates, and winning games requires consistent practice. Missing practices and games may result in less playing time.

Modest attire and appropriate behavior are required at all RAHA events and activities. See 1 Thess. 4:1-8.

Proper respect for all personal property and public facilities shall be shown.

All RAHA events and activities are non-smoking, non-alcoholic, and drug-free.

The use of profanity or coarse jesting is not allowed at RAHA events and activities.
